R. S. Currier, F. A. Walker and E. N. Normandeau were among the Barre men who went to Burlington to-day to attend the annual winter meeting of the Vermont Society of Engineers. Business sessions of the society were to be held this forenoon, with lectures this afternoon and a banquet this evening.

Cobble Hill grange held its regular meeting Tuesday evening. Considerable business was disposed of and one application by demit was received. The literary program consisted of piano solo, Sister Rena Thurston; reading, Sister Swenden; song, grange; reading, Brother Muir; discussion by the men of the grange over the dairy over; discussion by the young men over the relative advantages of learning by seeing or hearing; reading, Sister Perry; song, "The Farmer Feeds Them All"; grange. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, March 21.

Mrs. Rose O'Grady, daughter, Miss Irene O'Grady, and son, Francis O'Grady, of 35 Merchant street, went to Northfield this morning to attend the funeral of Mrs. Mary O'Grady, who died at her home in Hardwick Tuesday, after a long illness. Among other relatives who were present at the services to-day were Mrs. Joseph Lambert of Hardwick and Mrs. William Lawler of Claremont, N. H., daughters of the deceased. Requiem mass was celebrated in St. John's church at Northfield this morning at 9 o'clock, the parish priest, Rev. J. A. Lynch, officiating. Interment was in the Catholic church in Northfield.

Some of the rigors of a polar expedition without the discomfort, however, of sub-zero mercury readings, were encountered by a company of 35 young people, members of the Presbyterian Bible class, when they started to return from Plainfield soon after midnight to-day. Snow piled high in the roadway did not serve to expedite travel in the big barge used to convey the class to the Bancroft inn, where a bountiful roast chicken dinner and a dance were so soon to be followed by a night of hardship. Trouble with the harnesses caused at least two delays during the homeward trip, but a blinding snowstorm was mainly responsible for the belated arrival of the sleighriders in Barre this morning at 7 o'clock. Three farmers residing at intervals along the snowy home trail were appealed to for assistance and additional aid was summoned from Barre at 3 o'clock, when the young people found themselves marooned because of a fractured whiffletree. Apart from the stormy passage after the party, the affair was very enjoyable, so the members said.

A physician was summoned to reduce the fracture and the patient was reported to be resting quite comfortably to-day.

Manager C. F. Millar of the Consolidated Lighting Co. got in touch with General Manager H. T. Sands of the Tenney service by telephoning this morning in regard to the trolley service situation. At his office in Boston, Mr. Sands is reported to have said that the decision to restore a part of the former intercity service hangs on the issue of a meeting of the bondholders, held yesterday. In a statement issued last week, the Barre & Montpelier Traction & Power Co. announced its purpose to restore the third car to the interurban service on the morning of March 8. Yesterday main line car and branch cars were running on the schedule that has been in use since last fall, the operators having received instructions to stick to the abbreviated schedule until further orders were forthcoming.
